The University of South Wales welcomes students from Myanmar

September and February intakes available

With more than 33,000 students from all over the world, state-of-the-art facilities and teaching excellence, the University of South Wales is a great place to study. We offer undergraduate and postgraduate courses in a range of areas including design, music, business, computer science, engineering, psychology and chiropractic.

What's on offer?

The University has campuses throughout South Wales, in Cardiff, Newport and Pontypridd. Our locations mean you can enjoy everything the region has to offer – city life and culture, stunning beaches and breathtaking countryside. Employability is at the heart of everything we do, with teaching informed by what happens in the real world. Our graduates have the skills that are essential for the workplace and value our employability schemes, business start-up support and opportunities to get actual experience, often as part of your course.

Why choose the University of South Wales?

- Over 4,500 international students from 60 different countries are already enjoying living and studying at the University of South Wales.
- Excellent employability rates, with 94% of our graduates gaining employment or further study within 6 months

"It is very different from the culture and lifestyle compared to back home. The people are always kind and helpful and there were always festivals taking place which allowed me experience the different traditions. I found a part time job in the second year of my course and It's very easy to take public transport. The train station and bus stops are very close by so it was really easy to travel to the city centre any time."
